A Belegation of Mississippians Have an Interview with General Howard - Their Willingness to Accept the Status of the Negro-- A Cleaning on Among the Custom Mouses.

New York, Sept. 13.—The Times Washington special says: To-day a delegation of Mississippians, consisting of the late rebel Generals Tupper and Featherstone, and Rev. Dr. Murdock, of Columbus, Miss., waited on General Howard of the Freedmen's Bureau. Dr. Murdock made a speech, in which he stated, that when the Bureau was first organized the people of the South and not made up their minds fully to accept the status of the negro as a freeman, but a faw short months had made a wonderful change in the sentiments of the Southern people on this subject, and he was gratified now to say, that so far as his knowledge extended they universally accepted the conclusions of the war, and freely and sincerely acknowledged the freedom of the colored race, which had resulted from it. The Doctor believed the negro should be educated, as it would be better for the South to have a class of intelligent laborers than to have them grovelling in ignorance. The two races must live to get their in the South, and the more wide by education is disassimated, the better for all concerned, Gen. Howard expressed himself much pleased at the reation were some time in conversation in relation to the operations of the Bureau, which the Southerners commended by the Treasury department, with a view of rendering the expense of collecting the revenue from entonement of the Content of the Content of the Content of the Content of the Sustem have been commenced by the Treasury department, with a view of rendering the expense of collecting the revenue from entone the collecting the revenue from entone the content of the convention should not adopt the state of the constitutional right of States and individuals. The examinations now going on at the various Custom houses throughout the United States have been commenced by the Treasury department, with a view of rendering the expense of collecting the revenue from customs by the discharge of all officers found to be more ornamental than useful. Whenever there is a sinceure situation, it is to be abolished. Whenever one clerk or inspector can't perform the duties now performed by two, one will be discharged, and every officer will be required to carn his salary as far as it is possible to make him do so.

for a restoration of civil authority in Charleston.

The Union tic'tet was fatally defeated and apparently it has been the general result throughout the State, though the returns are yet very limited.

Wade Hampton, the original secessionist, nullifier, fire-eater, and rebel cavalry chief, has been elected a delegate in Columbia, though it is not yet known that he has been, or will be, pardoned by the President. The election massed off very quiet.

The citizens are very much pleased with the result, claiming that they are all Unionists, while those who were loyal throughout the war regard it as a virtual surrender of the State to the control of the secessionists.

Gov. Perry has issued a proclamation announcing the result of his conference with Generals Meade and Gilmore to be the restoration of the authority of the old judicial and other civil officers.

All the legal matters in which colored persons are concerned are to be adjudicated in the provost marshal's court lit was expected that Gen. Gilmore would issue an order of similar purport, but he has not yet done so, and it is now thought that until his return from Washington no further action will be taken by the military authorities. Report of Gen. Strong, of the Freed

New York, Sept. 13.—The Herald's Washington special says the forthcoming report of Gen. Strong, inspector in the Freedmen's Bureau, will be a very interesting document, inasmuch as it will be the candid statement of an officer who spent three months or more in investigating the condition of the race along the Mississippi and Red rivers, with a view to determine the capability of the negro to support himself in a state of freedom. Gen. Strong went down among these people with prejudices rather unfavorable to them than otherwise, superinduced perhaps by the reports—constantly floating—into the bereau 'from interested parties South in relation to the utter worthlessness of the negro, his total unfliness for any men's Bureau bereau from interested parties South in relation to the utter worthlessness of the negro, his total unfitness for any other state than that of servitude. He visited many of the settlements and plantations incog, and in no single instance failed to discover evidences of advancement beyond his most sanguline hopes. They are industrious and their states failed to discover evidences, in cases where they have accomplished this they have fairly nmazed their old masters, the white cotton growers, by the heavy crops they have got under way. Of course there are individuals in each community in whom idleness and vice cannot be overcome by the influence offered, yet these vicious dromes are fewer in number than among the whites. Schools are plenty and flourishing among them. Gen. Strong says the ease and eagerness with which old and young freedmen wade through elementary text books is astonishing.
